

SYNONYM

A lost wayfarer walks through a passage full of broken tiles, can't even recall the smell of the cigarettes, ashtray full of lies.

His brain
unable to notice the obliterated state of the place, strain has vanished
but somehow still connected to the maze.
Where is it? Is it the end?
He continues to analyze the static metaphor in front of his pupils.

He establishes the wrath he never has, letting the cusp of the magic trick enter the scene, not even himself could make him believe what he's seeing mesmerized by a strange human being.

A new insight begins to be created, yet he is unable to keep a real demeanor, the secrets, the movements, have elevated trying to siphon his look from him, recognises a common approach, only one could express sorrow like that, only one could calculate the show in that kind of habitat.

The mystery couldn't help pervaded of individual thoughts, each of them forced to connect the dots, he did not digest the upcoming events, willing to die only to find out what the main substance in all of this was.

Yielded, exhausted and consciously unconscious, he stared patiently;
he started hovering while an ineffable feeling covered his head with care, drawn to the non-existent piece of matter.

He had finally discovered, as the atmosphere displayed, how that creature,
was him.
Now it starts with another synonym.
